SUB TITLES

1. Having once partaken of the beauties of Kingston Harbor, one cannot resist the desire to step ashore and visit Kingston, itself.
2. Kingston is a city of Fifty Thousand or more inhabitants, ranking second in wealth and importance in the British West Indies.
3. On the docks everyone is busy loading or unloading schooners, counting yams (a favorite Jamaican vegetable,) ~~striking~~ diving for money or calking their vessels when the tide is right.
4. Indeed we seem to have found a land of toil, for behind us are Kingston's largest warehouses.
5. Kingston's family album and our traveling permits await us at the Permit Office.
6. After all the women with their baskets had boarded the street car headed for downtown, we decided to walk.
7. So busy, prosperous and important is the Kingston of today that all is forgotten of the terrible earthquake that completely leveled the city in 1907.
8. PEARL STREET is the main thoroughfare and befitting its name it is preciousely guarded by a "traffic cop."
9. Its streets are regular, well kept and clean; its buildings erected of steel and concrete are modest, yet decorative.
10. Paradise seems to have spread a mantle of Heavenly enchantment about Jamaica, giving it such charm that no traveler ever forgets his visit to Kingston.
11. The End.
